

Triple Recognition for Butterfield's Top Trust Thought Leaders

Apr 22 2021

Three of Butterfield's senior trust team have been named in Who's Who Legal: Thought Leaders – Private Client 2021 edition for the second consecutive year.

Deputy Group Head of Trust Paul Hodgson, Client Services Director Sarah-Jane Parker and Country Head of Switzerland Jim Parker, have all been recognised once again as thought leaders and leading experts in the fiduciary services sector.

Who's Who: Thought Leaders gather insight of the some of the world's foremost experts in a wide range of practice areas through the recommendations of clients and private practitioners.

This is the second year in a row, in which Paul, Sarah-Jane and Jim have been included in Thought Leaders – Private Client Trust and Advisory Services. Paul Hodgson has also been named on their Thought Leaders Global Elite - Private Client Trust & Advisory Services – 2021 list and is ranked as a Global Elite Thought Leader.

Jane Pearce, Butterfield's Group Head of Trust said: "Having three of Butterfield's trust experts included for the second year in a row is testament to their continued excellence and expertise in their field. And Paul's additional listing confirms his position as a globally renowned expert."

"We pride ourselves on having a strong team of consummate professionals with extensive experience, which is reflected in how Paul, Sarah-Jane and Jim have been recognised by their peers in the industry."
